WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.PERFORMANCE CHART AND ANALYSISJUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Shares redeemed within 60 days of purchase are subject to a 2.00% redemption fee. As stated in the current prospectus, the Wintergreen Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") total annual operating expense ratio for the Investor Class shares is 2.00% and for the Institutional Class is 1.75%. After management fee waivers, the Fund's annual operating expense ratios are currently limited to 1.95% for the Investor Class and 1.70% for the Institutional Class as stated in the financial statements that accompany this report. Since inception, certain fees were waived and/or expenses reimbursed; otherwise the performance would have been lower. The S&P 500 Index (the "Index") is a broad-based unmanaged index representing the performance of 500 widely held common stocks.

Converting from Investor Class to Institutional Class Shares

If the current market value of your accounts in the Investor Class is at least $100,000, you may elect to convert the accounts from Investor Class to Institutional Class shares in the Fund on the basis of relative net asset value ("NAV"). Converting from Investor Class to Institutional Class shares may not be available at certain financial intermediaries, or there may be additional costs associated with this conversion charged by your financial intermediary. There is no fee for converting accounts held directly with the Fund. Because the NAV per share of the Institutional Class shares may be higher or lower than that of the Investor Class shares at the time of conversion, although the total dollar value will be the same, a shareholder may receive more or fewer Institutional Class shares than the number of Investor Class shares converted.

You may convert from Investor Class to Institutional Class shares by calling the Fund at (888) GOTOGREEN (888-468-6473) or your financial intermediary if you don't have a direct account with the Fund. If the total market value of your Institutional Class shares account declines to less than $100,000 due to a redemption, your Institutional Class shares may be converted into Investor Class shares of the Fund on the basis of relative NAV. Although the total dollar value will be the same, a shareholder may receive more or fewer Investor Class shares than the number of Institutional Class shares converted. Please see "Shareholder Information" in the Fund's prospectus. A conversion from Investor Class shares to Institutional Class shares of the Fund or from Institutional Class shares to Investor Class shares of the Fund pursuant to the preceding paragraphs should generally not be a taxable exchange for federal income tax purposes. Please contact your tax advisor or accountant to discuss your specific situation.

PERFORMANCE CHART AND ANALYSIS (concluded)

JUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

COMPARISON OF CHANGE IN VALUE OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT OR $100,000 INVESTMENT

The following charts reflect the change in value of a hypothetical $10,000 investment in Investor Class shares of the Fund over the last 10 years and the value of a hypothetical $100,000 investment in Institutional Class shares of the Fund since the inception date of the share class, compared with a broad-based securities market index. The returns shown include reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions, if any. One cannot invest directly in an index. The total return of the Fund includes operating expenses that reduce returns while the total return of the Index does not include expenses. The Fund is professionally managed while the Index is unmanaged and is not available for direct investment. Performance reflects, for certain periods, the management fee waiver then in effect. In the absence of such waivers, total returns for those periods would be reduced.

Investor Class — Change in a $10,000 investment for the past 10 years

Institutional Class — Change in a $100,000 investment since inception

The performance table and graph do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. Current performance may be higher or lower than the performance shown. For the most recent month-end performance or for any other questions about the Fund, please call (888) GOTOGREEN (888-468-6473).

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS

JUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

Dear Fellow Wintergreen Fund Shareholder,

Wintergreen Fund, Inc. (the “Fund” or “Wintergreen”) outpaced the Standard & Poor’s 500 Composite Index (“S&P 500”) during the first half of 2017, with the Fund’s Investor Class returning 10.99% and the Institutional Class returning 11.08%, compared to the S&P 500’s return of 9.34%. The Fund’s performance during the first half of 2017 benefitted from strong returns from long-term holdings Reynolds American, Inc. (“Reynolds”), British American Tobacco plc (“BAT”), and Nestle SA (“Nestle”). Birchcliff Energy, Ltd., one of the Fund’s best performers in 2016, lagged during the first six months of 2017, along with Provident Financial plc, and Baker Hughes, Inc.

With the changing winds of the stock market, we believe that Wintergreen’s value investing approach is a critical strategy for investors today. In addition to identifying companies with strong fundamentals and compelling growth paths at significant discounts, value investing allows investors to hedge a market stressed by securities that have become over weighted and overpriced due to the rise of passive index funds.

Keep your eyes on the stars, and your feet on the ground.
- Teddy Roosevelt

Since the Fund’s inception in 2005, Wintergreen has held significant investments in both BAT and Reynolds. BAT’s management team has increased the company’s operating margin from the high-20s to mid-30s, doubled free cash flow to well over GBPⁱ 3 billion per year, and raised the dividend by a 12% compounded annual growth rate. At the same time, the Reynolds management team used a value formula that consisted of employing pricing power, generating substantial free cash flow, and returning much of that cash to shareholders through increasing dividends and share repurchases. Earlier this year, BAT, which has a global footprint and had long held approximately 42% of Reynolds shares, announced a bid for the remainder of Reynolds, which primarily caters to consumers in the U.S. In addition to corporate due diligence, this deal required both government and shareholder approval before the transaction could occur. We saw significant value in both companies individually, and believed there was considerable future value whether or not the acquisition occurred. After careful consideration, the Fund supported the proposed transaction. We believe it will benefit shareholders of both companies for the long run.

It is worth noting that the BAT purchase of Reynolds closed on July 25, 2017, after the reporting period for this report. Reynolds shares will no longer trade on the NYSE, with the company now under full ownership of BAT. Reynolds continues to produce steady cash flows from its leading U.S. brands, while it assists BAT in its product diversification efforts. The merger seems to be well-timed for BAT shareholders as Reynolds is just at the beginning of an accelerated growth curve fueled by “next generation” products, or those that are smoke-free. We believe that BAT and Reynolds have rewarded shareholders handsomely over the years with historically predictable earnings, accretive acquisitions (including former portfolio holding Lorillard in 2015), and increasing dividends, and that the future of the now combined company continues to be bright.

JUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

Pursue the things you love doing, and do them so well that people can't take their eyes off you.
- Maya Angelou

During the first-half of 2017, the Fund took profits on two sets of Nestle long-dated call options that the Fund purchased in 2013. At that time, Nestle was trading near CHFⁱⁱ 65 per share, and it seemed that the market indicated flat growth for the company. We thought otherwise, as we have been investors in Nestle's common stock since 2007, and participated in many growth developments including, product innovations, new categories, acquisitions, emerging market growth, and management changes. We identified and executed on an intriguing value investment in late 2013 when we took advantage of an opportunity in call options. The Fund bought a set of options with a strike price of CHF 60, and another set with a strike price of CHF 68. In early June of this year, when Nestle common shares traded at approximately CHF 83 per share, the Fund sold these options as they were 'deep in the money'.

We believe that our diligence and advocacy for the Fund's shareholders allows us to take advantage of opportunities like this. It also is an example of our knowledge of options and our discipline to sell when purchased securities arrive at full value. While the Fund sold the options, it continues to hold the common stock because of our continued long-term confidence in the historically steady performance of this global giant and its new CEO. The first major step the new CEO plans to take is the sale of their U.S. chocolate business, which will include the Butterfinger and Baby Ruth brands. We endorse the strategy of concentrating on faster growing segments in Nestle's operations and staying ahead of changing markets, trends, and tastes.

What is right is not always popular,
and what is popular is not always right.
- Albert Einstein

In the U.S., most of the investment focus since the 2008 market disruption has been directed towards index/passive investing. The market weighted investment in large baskets of securities has become the default investment of many. We believe that Wintergreen continues to be well positioned as an alternative that provides meaningful diversification from any index. Wintergreen has maintained its approach without wavering from solid reliance on the sound principles of value investing.

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS (concluded)

JUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

We are pleased with the Fund's recent performance and are enthusiastic about the future of true value investing. We believe that the Fund's holdings are great companies with compelling valuations that the crowd has ignored, choosing instead to focus on a few stocks creating a momentum bubble. With the closing of the BAT/Reynolds deal, the Fund is positioned to take advantage of investing opportunities as they arise.

Thank you for your continued investment in the Fund.

Sincerely,

David J. Winters, CFA

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. Organization

Wintergreen Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is an open-end, diversified management investment company registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Act"). The Fund was organized as a Maryland corporation on May 5, 2005 and the Investor Class inception date was October 17, 2005. The Institutional Class inception date was December 30, 2011. Investor Class shares and Institutional Class shares redeemed within 60 days of purchase are subject to a 2.0% redemption fee. Institutional Class shares do not bear a distribution and shareholder services fee (see Note 3). The Fund is authorized to issue 500,000,000 shares of beneficial interest with $0.001 per share par value of Investor Class shares and 500,000,000 shares of beneficial interest with $0.001 per share par value of Institutional Class shares. The Fund seeks capital appreciation and may invest a substantial portion of its assets in securities of foreign issuers, which may subject it to investment risks not normally associated with investing in securities of the United States.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The following summarizes the significant accounting policies of the Fund. These policies are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("GAAP"). The Fund is an investment company under GAAP and follows the accounting and reporting guidance applicable to investment companies.

Security Valuation — The Fund calculates the net asset value per share of each class on each business day the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") is open, as of the close of the NYSE (normally 4:00 pm Eastern Time). Long and short portfolio securities traded or dealt on one or more securities exchanges (whether domestic or foreign) and not subject to restrictions against resale shall be valued 1) at the last quoted sale price or, in the absence of a sale, 2) at the mean of the last bid and ask prices, except for open short positions, which are valued at the last ask price. For securities traded or dealt on more than one exchange, and in the over-the-counter ("OTC") market, quotations from a securities market in which the security is primarily traded are used. For an option, the last quoted sale price on an exchange or board of trade on which the option is traded shall be used. In the absence of a sale, the mean between the highest bid and lowest ask prices at the close of the exchanges and/or board of trade on which the option trades shall be used. Securities not traded or dealt on any securities exchange or board of trade for which OTC market quotations are readily available generally shall be valued at the mean of the current bid and ask prices. OTC derivatives for which market quotations are not readily available or are determined to be unreliable, shall generally be valued by an independent pricing agent or other reliable third party.

U.S. government securities are normally valued using a model that incorporates market observable data such as reported sales of similar securities, broker quotes, yields, bids, offers, and reference data. Certain securities are valued principally using dealer quotations.

Investments in other mutual funds, including money market funds, are valued at their net asset value per share and are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Forward currency contracts are presented at fair value measured by the difference between the forward exchange rates ("forward rates") at the dates of the entry into the contracts and the forward rates at the reporting date, and such differences are included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2017 (Unaudited)

Securities are valued at fair value, in accordance with procedures approved by the Fund's Board of Directors (the "Board"), and carried out by the valuation committee appointed by the Board (the "Valuation Committee") when 1) market quotations are insufficient or not readily available; 2) prices or values available do not represent fair value in the judgment of the Fund's Investment Manager (as defined in Note 3); or 3) securities are determined to be illiquid. As of June 30, 2017, the Fund did not hold any illiquid securities or securities valued at fair value by the Valuation Committee.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. The three levels defined by the hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 — unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets
- Level 2 — other significant inputs (including quoted prices of similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 — significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of assets and liabilities)

The inputs or methodology used for valuing assets and liabilities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those assets and liabilities.

Pursuant to the Fund's valuation procedures noted previously, equity securities, which includes options and warrants, (foreign or domestic) that are actively traded on a securities exchange are valued based on quoted prices from the applicable exchange, and to the extent valuation adjustments are not applied to these securities, they are categorized as Level 1. U.S. Treasuries are valued based on pricing models that evaluate the mean between the most recently published bid and ask price. The models also take into consideration data received from active market makers and inter-dealer brokers, yield curves, and the spread over comparable U.S. Treasury issues. The spreads change daily in response to market conditions and are generally obtained from the new issue market and broker-dealer sources. To the extent that these inputs are observable and timely, the fair values of U.S. Treasury obligations would be categorized as Level 2; otherwise the fair values would be categorized as Level 3. Foreign currencies that are actively traded are valued based on the unadjusted quoted price from the applicable market, and to the extent valuation adjustments are not applied to these balances, they are categorized as Level 1. Forward currency contracts are fair valued using various inputs and techniques, which include actual trading information, and foreign currency exchange rates. To the extent that these inputs are observable and timely, the fair values of forward currency contracts would be categorized as Level 2; otherwise the fair values would be categorized as Level 3. Investments for which there are no such quotations, or for which quotations do not appear to represent fair value, are valued at fair value using methods determined in good faith by the Valuation Committee. These fair valuations may be categorized as Level 2 or Level 3, depending on the valuation inputs.

* Please refer to the Statement of Investments for further breakout of each security by country and industry type.

^ Forward currency contracts are valued at the unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on the instruments.

The Fund's policy is to disclose significant transfers between all levels based on valuations at the end of the reporting period. As of June 30, 2017, there were no transfers made between levels compared to the valuation input levels on December 31, 2016. The Fund did not invest in any Level 3 securities during the period.

Security Transactions, Investment Income, and Realized Gain/Loss — Security transactions are accounted for on trade date plus one (trade date on calendar quarter end dates). Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date and is recorded net of unrecoverable withholding tax. Interest income and expenses are recorded on an accrual basis. Identified cost of investments sold is used to determine the realized gain and loss for both financial statement and Federal income tax purposes.

Foreign Currencies — Foreign currency amounts are translated into U.S. dollars based on the foreign exchange rate in effect generally at the close of the NYSE (normally 4:00 pm Eastern Time) on the date of valuation. If the foreign exchange rate in effect at the close of the NYSE is not available, the currency may be valued using the foreign exchange rate standard provided by the Fund's pricing agent. The portion of the results of operations arising from changes in the foreign exchange rates on investments and the portion due to fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held are not isolated. Such fluctuations are reflected in net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments and foreign currency transactions in the Statement of Operations.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from 1) sales of foreign currencies, 2) currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and 3) the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities at fiscal year-end, resulting from changes in exchange rates.

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Restricted Securities — The Fund may invest in restricted debt and equity securities which cannot be offered for public sale without first being registered under the Securities Act of 1933. To the extent the Fund purchases securities which are restricted as to resale, the Fund may incur additional risks and costs. Restricted securities may be particularly difficult to value, their disposition may require greater effort and expense than that of more liquid securities, and the Fund may incur costs in connection with the registration of restricted securities in order to dispose of such securities to the public. These securities are typically purchased under Rule 144A of the Securities Act of 1933. As of June 30, 2017, the Fund did not hold any restricted securities.

Forward Currency Contracts — During the period ended June 30, 2017, the Fund entered into transactions to purchase or sell foreign currencies to protect the U.S. dollar value of the underlying non-U.S. portfolio securities against the effect of possible adverse movements in foreign exchange rates. When entering into a forward currency contract, the Fund agrees to receive or deliver a fixed quantity of foreign currency for an agreed-upon price on an agreed future date. The unrealized gain or loss on the contracts as measured by the difference between the forward rates at the dates of entry into the contracts and the forward rates at the reporting date is included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the Statement of Operations.

Securities Sold Short — The Fund may sell a security short to, among other things, increase investment returns based on the anticipation of a decline in the fair value of a security. A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells a security that it does not own. To complete the transaction, the Fund must borrow the security in order to deliver it to the buyer. The Fund must replace the borrowed security by purchasing it at the market price in the future at the time of replacement. The price may be higher or lower than the price at which the Fund sold the security.

The Fund incurs a loss from a short sale if the price of the security increases between the date of the short sale and the date the Fund replaces the borrowed security. The Fund realizes a profit if the price of the security declines between those dates. A gain, limited to the difference between the replacement price and the price at which the Fund sold the security short, or a loss, unlimited in size, will be recognized upon the termination of a short sale.

Until the Fund replaces the borrowed security, the Fund will maintain a segregated account with the custodian, holding cash and/or long securities to sufficiently cover its short position on a daily basis. Gross income received on the investments in the segregated account is applied to the relevant account and gross expenses, related to the borrowing expense on securities sold short charged by the broker for entering into the short position, are labeled borrowing expenses on securities sold short on the Fund's Statement of Operations. As of June 30, 2017, the Fund did not have any short positions, and the Fund did not have any short positions during the period.

WINTERGREEN FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Option Transactions — The Fund may purchase call and put options. When the Fund purchases a call or put option, an amount equal to the premium paid is included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as an investment, and is subsequently adjusted to reflect the fair value of the option. If an option expires on the stipulated expiration date or if the Fund enters into a closing sale transaction, a gain or loss is realized. If the Fund exercises a call option, the cost of the security acquired is increased by the premium paid for the call. If the Fund exercises a put option, a gain or loss is realized from the sale of the underlying security, and the proceeds from such a sale are decreased by the premium originally paid. Written and purchased options are non-income producing securities.

The Fund may write call and put options. When the Fund writes a call or put option, an amount equal to the premium received is included in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as a liability. The amount of the liability is subsequently adjusted to reflect the current fair value of the option. If an option expires on its stipulated expiration date or if the Fund enters into a closing purchase transaction, a gain or loss is realized. If a written call option is exercised, a gain or loss is realized for the sale of the underlying security and the proceeds from the sale are increased by the premium originally received. If a written put option is exercised, the cost of the security acquired is decreased by the premium originally received. As the writer of an option, the Fund has no control over whether the underlying securities are subsequently sold (call) or purchased (put) and, as a result, bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security underlying the written option.

Distributions to Shareholders — Distributions to shareholders of net investment income and net capital gains, if any, are declared and paid at least annually. The amount of distribution will vary, and there is no guarantee the Fund will pay either income or capital gain distributions. Distributions are based on amounts calculated in accordance with applicable Federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. These differences are due primarily to differing treatments of income and gain on various investment securities held by the Fund, timing differences, and differing characterizations of distributions made by the Fund. The Fund uses equalization accounting to allocate a portion of its undistributed investment company taxable income and net capital gain to redemptions of Fund shares and correspondingly reduces the amount of such income and gains that it distributes in cash to remaining shareholders. The Fund records distributions on its books on the ex-dividend date. For the period ended June 30, 2017, the Fund did not have any distributions.

Federal Taxes — The Fund intends to qualify each year as a regulated investment company under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code and distribute all its net taxable income. Therefore, no Federal income or excise tax provision is required.

The Fund has reviewed the tax positions for the open tax years as of December 31, 2016, and has determined that no provision for income tax is required in the Fund's financial statements. The Fund files U.S. Federal, Maryland State, and New Jersey State tax returns. Tax years 2013-2016 generally remain subject to examination by the Fund's major tax jurisdictions. The Fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the year ended December 31, 2016, the Fund did not incur any interest and penalties.

Contractual Obligations — The Fund enters into contracts in the normal course of business that contain a variety of indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown. However, the Fund has not had any prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts. Fund management has reviewed the Fund's existing contracts and expects the risk of loss to be remote.

Redemption Fee — The Fund will generally charge a redemption fee of 2.00% of the net asset value of shares redeemed if the shares are sold within 60 calendar days of purchase. The fee is charged for the benefit of the remaining shareholders and is paid to the Fund. To calculate redemption fees, the Fund uses the first-in, first-out method to determine the holding period. Under this method, the date of redemption is compared with the earliest purchase date of the shares held in the account. The fee is reflected as paid-in capital on the Fund's Statement of Asset and Liabilities.

Income and Expense Allocation — Each class of shares for the Fund has identical rights and privileges, voting rights on matters pertaining to a single class of shares and the exchange privileges of each class of shares, except with respect to the Rule 12b-1 distribution and shareholder services fees paid by the Investor Class shares pursuant to the Distribution Plan (described below). The Institutional Class shares do not have a Rule 12b-1 distribution and shareholder services fee. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class based on its relative net assets.

Use of Estimates — These financial statements are prepared in accordance with GAAP, which requires Fund management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reported period. Actual amounts could differ from those estimates.

The value of securities held by the Fund may decline in response to certain events, including those directly involving the companies whose securities are owned by the Fund; conditions affecting the general economy; overall market changes; local, regional or global political, social or economic stability; and currency and interest rate and price fluctuations. The Fund's investments may also be subject to, among other risks, market risk, counterparty risk and credit risk (each of which is described below), sector and industry risk, value risk, foreign securities (including emerging markets) risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, income risk, short sale risk, derivatives risk, small- and mid-capitalization company risk and investor activism risk.

The Fund's investments in derivatives may increase, decrease or change the level or types of exposure to certain risk factors. The primary risks the Fund may attempt to manage through investing in derivative instruments include, but are not limited to, foreign investments and currency, price volatility, and credit (including counterparty) risks.

Market risk is the potential for changes in an asset's value due to market changes, including interest and foreign exchange rate movements, and fluctuations in security prices. Credit risk involves the possibility that a loss may occur due to, among other things, the failure of a debt issuer to pay interest and principal in a timely manner. Credit risk is limited to amounts recorded by the Fund as assets in the form of unrealized gains on forward currency contracts and the market values of OTC options. The Investment Manager is responsible for determining the value of the underlying collateral relating to a derivative instrument. In the normal course of business, the Fund invests in securities and enters into transactions where risks exist due to fluctuations in the market (market risk) or failure of the other party to a transaction to perform (credit risk). The Fund may be exposed to counterparty risk, or the risk that an entity with which the Fund has unsettled or open transactions may default. Financial assets, which potentially expose the Fund to credit and counterparty risks, consist principally of investments and forward currency contracts and cash due from counterparties. The extent of the Fund's exposure to credit and counterparty risks in respect to these financial assets approximates their value as recorded in the Fund's Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

These risks, and other potential risks of investing in the Fund, are described in the Fund's Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information.

Note 8. Derivative Financial Instruments

Forward Currency Contracts — A forward currency contract is a commitment to buy or sell a specific amount of a foreign currency at a negotiated price on a specified future date. Forward currency contracts can help manage the risk of changes in currency exchange rates. These contracts are marked-to-market at the applicable translation rates. The Fund incurs foreign exchange expenses in converting assets from one currency to another. Forward currency contracts involve a risk of loss if the Investment Manager is inaccurate in predicting currency movements. The projection of short-term currency market movements is extremely difficult and the successful execution of a short-term hedging strategy is highly uncertain. The precise matching of forward currency contract amounts and the value of the securities involved are generally not possible. Accordingly, it may be necessary for the Fund to purchase additional foreign currency if the fair value of the security is less than the amount of the foreign currency the Fund is obligated to deliver under the forward currency contract and the decision is made to sell the security and make delivery of the foreign currency. The use of forward currency contracts as a hedging technique does not eliminate fluctuations in the prices of the underlying securities the Fund owns or intends to acquire, but it does fix a rate of exchange in advance. Although forward currency contracts can reduce the risk of loss due to a decline in the value of the hedged currencies, they also limit any potential gain that might result from an increase in the value of the currencies. These instruments involve market risk, credit risk, or both kinds of risks, in excess of the amount recognized in the Fund's Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Option Transactions — An option is a contract between two parties for the purchase and sale of a financial instrument for a specified price (known as the "strike price" or "exercise price"). An option grants a right (not an obligation) to buy or sell a financial instrument and is exercisable by the holder during a specified time period or at expiry. Generally, a seller of an option can grant a buyer two kinds of rights: a "call" (the right to buy the security) or a "put" (the right to sell the security). Options have various types of underlying instruments, including specific securities, indices of securities prices, foreign currencies, interest rates and futures contracts. Options may be traded on an exchange (exchange-traded-options) or may be customized agreements between the parties ("OTC options"). A financial intermediary, known as a clearing corporation, financially backs exchange-traded options. However, as OTC options have no such intermediary and are subject to the risk that the counterparty will not fulfill its obligations under the contract, losses would be limited to the market value of options.

When a fund purchases a put option, it buys the right to sell the instrument underlying the option at a fixed strike price. In return for this right, a fund pays the current market price for the option (known as the "option premium"). A fund would ordinarily realize a gain if, during the option period, the value of the underlying securities decreased below the exercise price sufficiently to cover the premium and transaction costs. However, if the price of the underlying instrument does not fall enough to offset the cost of purchasing the option, a put buyer would lose the premium and related transaction costs.

Call options are similar to put options, except that when a call option is purchased by a fund, the fund obtains the right to purchase, rather than sell, the underlying instrument at the option's strike price. A fund would ordinarily realize a gain if, during the option period, the value of the underlying instrument exceeded the exercise price plus the premium paid and related transaction costs. If an option purchased by a fund expires unexercised, the Fund realizes a capital loss equal to the premium paid.

When a fund writes (or sells) a call option it assumes, in return for a premium, an obligation to sell specified securities to the holder of the option at a specified price if the option is exercised at any time on or before the expiration date. Similarly, when a fund writes (or sells) a put option it assumes, in return for a premium, an obligation to purchase specified securities from the option holder at a specified price if the option is exercised at any time on or before the expiration date. A fund may terminate its position in an exchange-traded put option before exercise by buying an option identical to the one it has written. Similarly, it may cancel an OTC option by entering into an offsetting transaction with the counter-party to the option. If an option written by a fund expires unexercised, the fund realizes a capital gain equal to the premium received at the time the option was written.

Options on securities indices are similar to options on securities, except that the exercise of securities index options requires cash settlement payments and does not involve the actual purchase or sale of securities. In addition, securities index options are designed to reflect price fluctuations in a group of securities or segment of the securities market rather than price fluctuations in a single security.

Note 9. Offsetting Assets and Liabilities

The Fund is subject to various Master Netting Arrangements ("MNA's"), which govern the terms of certain transactions with select counterparties. The MNA's allow the Fund to close out and net its total exposure to a counterparty in the event of a default with respect to all the transactions governed under a single agreement with a counterparty. The MNA's also specify collateral posting arrangements at pre-arranged exposure levels. Under the MNA's, collateral is routinely transferred if the total net exposure to certain transactions (net of existing collateral already in place) governed under the relevant MNA with a counterparty in a given account exceeds a specified threshold depending on the counterparty and the type of MNA.

Information on the operation of the Public Reference Room may be obtained by calling (800) SEC-0330.

Shareholder Expenses Example

A shareholder of a mutual fund incurs two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, reinvested dividends, or other distributions; redemption fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and/or service (12b-1) fees (if any), and other fund specific expenses. This example is intended to help the shareholder understand ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in a fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

This example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the most recent six-month period.

The Actual Expenses Comparison provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. A shareholder may use the information in this line, together with the amount invested, to estimate the expenses paid over the period. A shareholder may divide his/her account value by $1,000 (e.g., an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses paid on his/her account during this period.

The Hypothetical Example for Comparison provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses paid for the period. A shareholder may use this information to compare the ongoing cost of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, a shareholder would compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

The expenses shown in the example are meant to highlight ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as redemption fees. Therefore, the Hypothetical Example for Comparison is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help to determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transaction costs were included, shareholder costs would have been higher.
